Hello SVP members! It is been a bit of time since I have written a column for SVP so, it is a good time to catch you up to speed on some of the initiatives that are currently underway with the executive board. First, we are making plans to attend the 12th Biennial Conference in Tallahassee, FL at Florida State University’s campus. Drs. Janet Lenz, Casey Dozier, Debra Osborn, Jim Sampson, Bob Reardon, Gary Peterson, and Emily Bullock-Yowell have been doing a wonderful job of planning this biennial conference, which will be held in May 16-17. The title of this conference is “Integrating Theory, Research, & Practice” and a list of plenary speakers and sessions can be found on the SVP website at http://www.div17.org/vocpsych/pages/fsuPlenary.pdf.

We are also making plans for SVP events at the American Psychological Association in Denver this summer. We will have a full list of events in the summer newsletter. One important event is the student poster session and proposals are now being accepted for a Student Poster Session co-sponsored by the Council of Counseling Psychology Training Programs (CCPTP), Division 17 Sections, and the Division 17 Student Affiliates of Seventeen (SAS). Poster proposals may be empirical studies or theoretical considerations relevant to the specific Division 17 Section to which they are submitted. The first author on the proposal must be a student (or have completed the project while a student or intern) and must either be a student affiliate of Division 17 or sponsored by a Division 17 member. Neeta Kantamneni is coordinating the poster session for us. Thank you, Neeta! Deadline for poster proposals is March 21 at 11:59 PST.

Continued on p. 2
Also, please see the announcement for Distinguished Professional Award, Early Career Award, and Student Research Awards. We would love to have folks submit nominations early this year so we make sure to honor the contributions of our members at the SVP meetings in Denver. Finally, I would like to mention the winners of the 2015 awards—we honored two distinguished professionals for their many contributions to Vocational Psychology, Conseulo Arbona and Ellen Hawley McWhirter and the student research award winners, Anna Praskova and Blake Allan. Congratulations to these deserving award winners!!!

Thanks to all the board and SVP members for their work this year!
Saba Rasheed Ali

2016 SVP Officer Elections

Call for SVP Chair Elect and Treasurer Officer Nominations

We seek nominations for a new Chair Elect Officer for the SVP Executive Board. The term for Patrick Rottinghaus as Chair-Elect will expire in August of 2016. when he takes on the new role of Chair. We also seek nomination for a new Treasurer as Marie Hammond’s term will expire in August. Please nominate yourself or colleague for these important section offices. In accordance with our by-laws, this is an elected office. Nominees must be members of the section, commit to attending APA and periodic conference call meetings, and desire to act as a steward for, and to contribute to, the ongoing development of the section. Please forward all nomination letters and a current CV of the nominee by May 1, 2016 to:

Sue Whiston, Ph.D.
Email: swhiston@indiana.edu

Call for SVP Student Representative Nominations

We seek nominations for a new student representative to the SVP Executive Board. There are two student representatives and the term for Ellie Castine expires in August of 2016. The student representative is an active member of the board who is able to make a two year commitment to attend the annual APA convention and to participate in the SVP executive board meetings both at APA and on conference calls (approximately 4-6 calls of one hour each) throughout the year. The student should also demonstrate an interest in becoming actively involved in section activities and in encouraging the involvement of other student members. Faculty are encouraged to nominate interested students. If you are a student interested in serving SVP in this capacity for a two-year term, please ask a faculty member to nominate you. Nominators should address leadership abilities, commitment to vocational research and/or practice, and interest in the position. Please include the nominee’s current CV along with the letter. The student representative is selected by the SVP Executive Board and will commence responsibilities in August 2016. Please forward all nominations by May 1, 2016 to:

Sue Whiston, Ph.D.
Email: swhiston@indiana.edu

Vocational Psychology News
The SVP Conference Committee is pleased to welcome you to Florida State University in Tallahassee, Florida, to attend the 2016 Conference May 16th & 17th. We have an exciting line up of plenary sessions, program presentations, roundtables, and poster sessions, highlighting theory, research, and practice. Participants will also have a chance to visit Florida State’s world class Career Center, which models the integration of theory, research, and practice. The conference plenary sessions, program presentations, and roundtables will be held in the heart of the Florida State University campus in the Dunlap Success Center (DSC; www.getcampusmaps.com/florida-state-university/dse-dunlap-success-center/) and the Student Services Building (SSB).

On-campus housing is available in Ragans Hall, a short walk from the conference venues, for $44.00 per night; these are suites with private beds, shared living, kitchen space, and 2 bathrooms per suite; 3-4 bedrooms per suite. For early arrivals on Sunday, May 15th, we are offering an option to hike (weather permitting) in the St. Marks National Wildlife Refuge (http://www.fws.gov/refuge/st_marks/) led by an experienced member of the Florida Trail Association. The hike will be followed by a casual “dutch treat” dinner at a local waterside restaurant. Contact the conference chair at jlenz@fsu.edu to put your name on the list for one or both of these events. There are also a variety of sites to visit in the Tallahassee and surrounding areas.

Housing is available at the Doubletree Hilton in downtown Tallahassee, overlooking Tallahassee’s Chain of Parks. If you contact them, please let them know you are attending the conference.

The Monday night reception and more than 20 poster sessions will be held at the University Center Club Ballroom overlooking FSU’s football stadium.

Check Tallahassee and surrounding airports for flight options. Jacksonville is only a 2 ½ hour drive from Tallahassee. If you want to visit the Gulf Coast beaches, you can fly into the Northwest Florida Beaches International Airport, located in Panama City, Florida, http://www.iflybeaches.com/. This airport is 2 hours from the conference location. We look forward to welcoming you to Tallahassee and the Florida State University campus. See you in May!

Continued on p. 4
Top Ten Things to Do in and Around the Tallahassee Area

2. Visit the capitol of the 4th largest state in the U.S. which was established in 1824, www.visitfloridacapitol.com. This downtown site includes both the old and new capitol buildings.

3. Explore Cascades Park, http://discovercascades.com/, which offers a variety of outdoor and recreational amenities, including a state-of-the-art amphitheater, interactive water fountain, and children’s play area, and miles of multi-use trails.

5. Check out the Tallahassee Museum, http://tallahasseemuseum.org/, a 52-acre outdoor museum that tells the story of Florida’s natural and cultural history. The museum includes a zip line and adventure course, which allows visitors to explore the natural beauty from high in the trees.

8. Slightly farther south of town is Tallahassee is the St. Marks Historic Railroad State Trail, which leads to the coastal town of St. Marks. The trail is suitable for cycling or walking. Bicycles are available for rental nearby at The Great Bicycle Shop, 3624 Woodville Hwy., http://www.greatbicycle.com/.

9. Explore the beautiful St. Marks National Wildlife Refuge. Visitors can drive through the park, as well as take hikes, http://www.fws.gov/refuge/st_marks/. Wildlife (including alligators!) and a variety of birds can be seen in their natural habitat.

10. A little farther south and to the west (1 ½ to 2 hours) you can enjoy Florida’s beautiful Gulf Coast, (often called the forgotten coastline because it is such a hidden treasure, http://www.forgottencoastline.com/), home to some of the world’s most beautiful beaches, including St. George Island, Mexico Beach, and Cape San Blas.
Message from SVP Student Representatives

Ellie Castine & Brittan Davis

Greetings from your SVP Student Representatives! There are numerous benefits for graduate students within SVP, including graduate student awards when funding is available, and sponsorship for poster sessions at the annual APA Convention. If you know of any graduate students interested in vocational or career-related psychology, please encourage them to join our society! To join SVP as a Student Affiliate, one must first be a member of APAGS (www.apa.org/apags) or Division 17 SAS (www.div17.org/students/student-affiliates-of-17). Once that is complete, go to the membership section of the SVP website to become a student affiliate (http://www.div17.org/vocpsych/pages/membership.htm).

There are also several opportunities coming up for students. SVP will be seeking a new graduate student representative to serve as the Student Representative to the SVP board. This is an excellent opportunity to gain experience and connect with professionals in the field. Also, SVP will be accepting poster submissions for the SVP Social at the upcoming APA Convention in Denver. Please read below to find out more about these opportunities!

We are both grateful that we joined SVP, as it has allowed us to meet so many wonderful experts in the field in addition to fellow students with similar interests. We hope to see you at the Biennial Conference and look forward to getting all of the students together in Tallahassee!

SVP Listserv

Stay up-to-date on the latest SVP news and developments—join the SVP Listserve!

Simply send an email to the listserv administrator, Alexandra Minieri, at allieminieri@gmail.com
Forthcoming Conferences: NCDA, APA, IAEVG

APA Annual Convention
Denver, Colorado | August 4-7, 2016

Conference of the International Association of Educational and Vocational Guidance (IAEVG)

Promoting Equity through Guidance: Reflection, Action, Impact

15-18 November 2016
Madrid

Organized by: Department MIDE II (Educational Guidance, Assessment, Psychopedagogy) and Department MIDE I (Research Methods and Assessment in Education), of the School of Education, Spanish University of Distance Education (UNED) in collaboration with the Spanish Guidance Association (AEOP), the Mexican Journal of Educational Guidance (REMO), RPD, EDUCAWEB and Euroguidance.
Interview with a Vocational Psychologist:
Consuelo Arbona
Professor of Counseling Psychology, University of Houston

How did you become interested in vocational psychology, and in particular, what led to your interest in work/career-related concerns of racial and ethnic minorities?

My career path has taken a few twists and turns. I started my post-secondary education at the College of New Rochelle, in the outskirts of New York City, as an economics major. At the time, I was motivated by my fondness for numbers and the goal to complete a degree that would lead to secure employment, maybe in accounting. A junior year abroad studying art, history and literature at the University of Madrid, Spain opened my eyes to the liberal arts, psychology and the importance of finding meaning in educational and career pursuits. Upon my return to New Rochelle as a senior, my will to pursue economics and accounting had evaporated, the need to secure employment had not. In two 18-credit semesters I completed a second major in education to become a school teacher. After some more travelling and one year in Hartford, Connecticut working as an elementary school bilingual teacher, I returned to Puerto Rico. Without ever having taken a psychology course in college, on my own, by then I had read most of Freud’s works followed by Victor Frankl, Piaget, Karen Horney and Karl Jung’s original writings. Fascinated by psychology, but not sure what to do with it, in Puerto Rico I found part-time work in a community agency called ASPIRA teaching English and Math to Vietnam war veterans, who were getting ready to take the SAT to pursue post-secondary education. ASPIRA, which in Spanish means to aspire, was founded in 1961 in New York City by Dr. Antonia Pantojas to address the high drop-out rate and low educational attainment of Puerto Rican immigrant youth in New York. While I was working as a part-time teacher, ASPIRA in Puerto Rico received a federal grant to develop a program to organize after-school clubs in low-income residential communities in the San Juan area to foster high-school students’ educational attainment, career development and leadership skills. I had the good fortune to be recruited to spear-head that effort. It was in ASPIRA, reading the proposal for the program I was tasked to implement, that I discovered counseling and career development; disciplines that combined two fields that I immensely enjoyed, education and psychology! In no time I enrolled in the Master’s program in Counseling at the University of Puerto Rico, where I became familiar with Rogers’ approach to counseling, the behaviorists and career development theories from Osipow’s, Super’s and Holland’s perspectives. It all made so much sense! It was a great experience to have the opportunity to immediately apply what I was learning in graduate school in my work, and vice versa, to inform my academic work with the day-to-day experiences I had with the challenging, zestful, witty teenagers I was working with.

But, all good things at some point must end. I received my Master’s degree, the federal grant ran its course, our teenagers graduated from high school… it was time to move on. By then, I did have a career plan, to work as a counselor in a post-secondary institution. (At the time, in Puerto Rico for the most part college counselors had master’s degrees.) One of the universities I approached, did not have openings in their counseling department, but offered me the job of registrar. With the boldness that only youth confers, I accepted the head registrar’s position in a 14,000 students’ campus with no previous experience in higher education and only one week to learn everything I could from the departing registrar. Soon enough I realized that while administration was not for me, the academic side of the University setting was a great fit. And for that, I needed a Doctorate.

Continued on p. 9

By the end of the second year as registrar, I was on my way to Madison Wisconsin to seek a PhD in Counseling Psychology. It was back in the U.S., under the guidance of Phil Perrone, where I started to cultivate my research interests in multi-cultural issues and vocational psychology. In my work at ASPIRA I had met students, both adults and adolescents, who had migrated back to Puerto Rico after growing up in New York City. Learning about their lives, the challenges they faced upon their return to the Island, which presented them with a very different context from fast-paced, liberal NYC, gave me a first glimpse of the importance of context in defining one’s identity, ethnic, vocational, personal. As I engaged in the study of vocational issues among Hispanic immigrants as an assistant professor at the University of Houston, I grew convinced that the concept of vocational choice is predicated upon academic attainment. And, that the theoretical and empirical writings from the 1970s that implied, or explicitly stated, that members from some ethnic minority groups were intrinsically different from their majority counterparts in terms of aspirations for upward mobility and ability to delay gratification, were flatly wrong. Their contexts differed; what privilege afforded some groups, it denied others. Those ideas led to my interest in studying work/career-related concerns among racial and ethnic minorities. One of the great contributions of multiculturalism and feminism to career psychology has been to highlight the importance of contextual variables in understanding human behavior. Guided by the work of other researchers, I became interested in ethnic identity, career barriers, predictors of academic attainment, minority stress; constructs designed to capture the unique experience of ethnic minority youth as they make sense of their environment and pursue their aspirations. Topics that continue to motivate my work today.

What do I know now that I wish I would have known when I was a student, you ask?

Not much… I am not sure that the things that I believe I know now would have served me well in my days as a graduate student. Times have changed, contexts are different. What I knew then, served me well; and I continue to learn, with and from those around me, about how to forge paths in this ever changing brave new world we inhabit!
Interview with a Vocational Psychologist:
Ellen McWhirter
Ann Swindells Professor; University of Oregon.

_How did you become interested in vocational psychology, and in particular, postsecondary plans among Latino/a adolescents?_

As someone who utilizes social cognitive career theory, naturally I would have to say it was a combination of background contextual affordances and person inputs, and learning experiences, which in turn influenced my self-efficacy and outcome expectations, interests that emerged from these, and high proximal supports and low barriers to translating goals into actions. Right? More specifically, some of the building blocks included early exposure to the Spanish language, a Catholic education that called attention to privilege, oppression, responsibility, and service, a semester in Mexico focused on the theology of liberation and sociopolitical development, and two post college years as an Arizona Head Start teacher. So with that set of experiences, who wouldn’t want to study Latina/o adolescent vocational development? Education and work are among the primary vehicles through which people make meaning in their lives (whether that meaning is about survival, power, connection, and/or self-determination, as David Blustein has described so well). So for me this research is about understanding and facilitating that meaning-making and transformative process, for a heterogeneous group of young people with rich, wonderful cultural, linguistic, and familial assets, and who face a lot of daunting barriers as well.

_What do you know now that you wish you would have known when you were a student?_
Life is long, and life is short. If you don’t make the time to do it now, you probably won’t make the time to do it later!

---

Have an interesting idea for a Guest Column for the Summer 2016 Edition of
Vocational Psychology News?

Please send your news, notes, and newsletter articles as a word document attachment to:
Neeta Kantamneni at nkantamneni2@unl.edu

Deadline for summer issue: 6/15/16
2015 SVP Award Winners

Congratulations to Dr. Consuelo Arbona and Dr. Ellen McWhirter for winning the 2015 SVP Distinguished Achievement Awards

Dr. Arbona is a professor at the University of Houston. Her research interests include issues of ethnic identity, minority stress and acculturation in relation to psychological adjustment and career development with a focus on Latina/o populations.

Dr. Ellen Hawley McWhirter is an Ann Swindells Professor at the University of Oregon. Her current research and scholarship are focused on Latina/o adolescents and factors that influence their postsecondary plans and school engagement.

Congratulations to Blake Allan and Anna Praskova for winning the 2015 SVP Graduate Student Research Awards
Angela Byars-Winston, PhD was appointed to a federal panel, the Board of Higher Education and Workforce (BHEW) of the National Academy of Sciences, that advises federal lawmakers, policy-makers, and academic and industry leaders on recommendations to inform action and set strong public policy on issues in higher education and the workforce.

Professor Peter Creed (Griffith University) is the new chief editor of the Australian Journal of Career Development (AJCD). The journal is published by SAGE and takes an international perspective. More information about the AJCD can be found at: http://acd.sagepub.com/

Bryan Dik, PhD, was named to the inaugural 2016 class of A. Barry Rand Fellows with the Life Reimagined Institute, AARP's newly launched career development organization. Bryan also delivered a talk at the TEDxCSU event on March 5 in Fort Collins, Colorado, entitled "How to Find and Live Your Calling."

Paul Gore, former Communications Officer and Chair of the Society for Vocational Psychology is now the Dean of the College of Professional Sciences at Xavier University in Cincinnati Ohio. He manages an academic portfolio that includes education, health sciences, and social sciences.
Mark Pope was named a Curators’ Professor by the University of Missouri System, the highest and most distinguished academic appointment in the University of Missouri System.

Mark Savickas has written a Life Design Counseling Manual which presents a principle-driven intervention that counselors may use to assist clients make career transitions. The manual is intended to enable graduate students and practitioners to develop the knowledge, skills, and behaviors involved in Life-Design Counseling for Career Construction. Simply stated the Manual encourages life-design counselors to become more intentional about what they are doing to prompt client transformation and why they are doing it. The second goal was to aid researchers to improve coherence with life-design discourse when they conduct treatment studies. The Manual may be downloaded for free from http://www.Vocopher.com. Savickas hopes that practicum instructors and those who teach career courses will make the free pdf available to their students. Those who wish a paperback book, with identical content, may purchase one from Amazon for $10.

---

Home some exciting news you want to share in the next SVP newsletter? Received an award or published a new book recently?

Please send your news as a word document attachment to:
Neeta Kantamneni at nkantamneni2@unl.edu

Deadline for summer issue: 6/15/16
2016 SVP Award Nominations

Distinguished Achievement Award

Purpose: To acknowledge and reward the research or professional achievement of vocational psychologists who have made significant contributions to the field of vocational psychology. The terms research and professional achievement shall be broadly construed.

Past winners include: Consuelo Arbona, Ellen McWhirter, Nadya Fouad, David Blustein, Terence Tracey, Steven Brown, Robert Lent, Nancy Betz, Jo-Ida Hansen, Mark Savickas, Don Zytowski and John Holland. The award includes a check for $500.00 and a citation from the Chair of the Society for Vocational Psychology.

Eligibility: APA members are eligible for the award. The only ineligible candidates are the members of the SVP Executive Committee and the SVP Awards Committee.

Nomination Procedure

Nominations should include a nomination letter that discusses the significance of the nominee’s contributions to vocational psychology. This nomination letter may be accompanied by a vita and no more than two letters of support.

Deadline: June 30, 2016

Please send nominations to: Dr. Marie S. Hammond, SVP Award Committee Chair – vocpsych@comcast.net

Early Career Professional Award

Purpose: To recognize new professionals who have made substantial or cutting edge contributions to the field of career or vocational psychology.

Past winners include: Mindi Thompson, Ryan Duffy, Patrick Armstrong, Erik Porfeli, Bryan Dik, Patrick Rottinghaus, and Matthew Diemer. The award includes a check for $500.00 and a citation from the Chair of the Society for Vocational Psychology.

Eligibility: 1) 1 to 7 years past date of doctoral degree. 2) Substantial contributions to the fields of career and/or vocational psychology as evidenced by at least one publication on which the nominee is first or only author. 3) Nomination by colleagues, members of the awards committee, or members of SVP as having made a substantial or cutting edge contribution to the field. 4) Demonstration of a commitment to continuing to conduct research in vocational psychology. 5) An active member in SVP.

Nomination Procedure

Nominations should include a nomination letter that discusses the significance of the nominee’s contributions to vocational psychology. This nomination letter may be accompanied by a vita and no more than two letters of support.

Deadline: June 30, 2016

Please send nominations to: Dr. Marie S. Hammond, SVP Award Committee Chair – vocpsych@comcast.net

Graduate Student in Vocational Psychology Awards

The Society for Vocational Psychology (SVP) is pleased to offer two graduate student research awards in vocational psychology. This $250 award honors student contributions to vocational psychology. This award will be for work on an accepted conference proposal, master's thesis, doctoral dissertation, journal article, or other advisor-approved research in the area of vocational psychology. The research need not be complete, but the data must be collected and analyzed at the time of application submission. The student does not have to be first author, but if the student is not first author then the faculty letter should specify the student's substantive contributions to the final product.

DEADLINE: Nomination letters for the 2016 SVP Graduate Student Award in Vocational Psychology are due May 15, 2016. Please send electronic copies (pdf preferred) of the nomination letter and the research paper (in published, manuscript, or proposal form) to: Sue Whiston, Ph.D., SVP Past Chair swhiston@indiana.edu.

Vocational Psychology News
Journal Spotlight

Journal of Career Assessment

Volume 24, Issue 2, 2016

Vocational and Leisure Interests: A Profile-level Approach to Examining Interests by Melanie E. Leuty, Jo-Ida C. Hansen, and Stormy Z. Speaks

Going the Extra Mile: Perseverance as a Key Character Strength at Work by Hadassah Littman-Ovadia and Shiri Lavy

Living a Calling, Nationality, and Life Satisfaction: A Moderated, Multiple Mediator Model by Richard P. Douglass, Ryan D. Duffy, and Kelsey L. Autin

Students’ Perceptions of Person-Environment Fit: Do Fit Perceptions Predict Academic Success Beyond Personality Traits? by Julian M. Etzel and Gabriel Nagy

Why Do Adaptable People Feel Less Insecure? Indirect Effects of Career Adaptability on Job and Career Insecurity via Two Types of Perceived Marketability by Daniel Spurk, Simone Kauffeld, Annika L. Meinecke, and Katharina Ebner

Workplace Skills Development: A Multilevel Study of Jamaican Unattached Youth by Danxia Chen, Ursula Johnson, Darrell M. Hull, and Jon. K. Reid

Family Influence on Careers among Asian Parent-Child Dyads by Arpita Ghosh and Nadya A. Fouad

Prestige Added to Holland’s Vocational Interest Scales for the Prediction of Medical Students’ Aspired Work Environments by Sabine Guntern, Hanke Korpershoek, and Greetje van der Werf

Constructing a Situation-Based Career Interest Assessment for Junior-High-School Students and Examining their Interest Structure by Yao-Ting Sung, Yu-Wen Cheng, and Jeng-Shin Wu

The Emotional and Personality-Related Career Decision-Making Difficulties Questionnaire-Validation of the Chinese Version by Zhi-Jin Hou, Xu Li, Yi-Ling Liu, and Itamar Gati

Psychometric Properties of a Career Exploratory Outcome Expectations Measure by Iris M. Oliveira, Maria do Céu Taveira, Irene Cadime, and Erik J. Porfeli

A Short Form of the Career Interest Test: 21-CIT by Cristy Bartlett, Harsha N. Perera, and Peter McIlveen

South Korean Salespersons’ Calling, Job Performance and Organizational Citizenship Behavior: The Mediating Role of Occupational Self-Efficacy by Jiyoung Park, Young Woo Sohn, and Yoo Jin Ha

Journal Spotlight

Examining Predictors of Work Volition Among Undergraduate Students by Ryan D. Duffy, Richard P. Douglass, Kelsey L. Autin, and Blake A. Allan

Intraindividual Personality Profiles Associated with Realistic Interests by Brenton M. Wiernik

Impact of a Career Exploration Course on Career Decision Making, Adaptability, and Relational Support in Hong Kong by Raysen Cheung and Qiuping Jin

Integrating Work and Study Among Young Adults: Testing an Empirical Model by Rachel Gali Cinamon

Development and Validation of a Work Mattering Scale (WMS) by Ae-Kyung Jung and Mary J. Heppner

Critical Consciousness and Vocational Development Among Latina/o High School Youth: Initial Development and Testing of a Measure by Ellen Hawley McWhirter and Benedict T. McWhirter

Job Apathy: Scale Development and Initial Validation by Gordon B. Schmidt, Guihyun Park, Jessica Keeney, and Sonia Ghumman

Understanding Career Aspirations Among Young Women: Improving Instrumentation by Margo A. Gregor and Karen M. O’Brien

Measuring Career Aspirations Across Cultures: Using the Career Aspiration Scale with Young Korean Women by Young Hwa Kim, Karen M. O’Brien, and Hana Kim

Journal of Career Development

Volume 42, Issue 4, August 2015

Multiple Roles, Role Conflict, and Sense of Meaning in Life Among Working Parents by Liat Kulik, Sagit Shilo-Levin, and Gabriel Liberman

Validity and Reliability of a Turkish Version of the Career Locus of Control Scale by Diğdem Müge Siyez

An Exploration of First-Generation College Students’ Career Development Beliefs and Experiences by Kevin A. Tate, William Caperton, Dakota Kaiser, Nathan T. Pruitt, Heather White, and Eric Hall

Vocational Psychology News
Journal Spotlight

Hardiness, Perceived Employability, and Career Decision Self-Efficacy Among Taiwanese College Students by Jie-Tsuen Huang

Developing Attitudes Toward an Entrepreneurial Career Through Mentoring: The Mediating Role of Entrepreneurial Self-Efficacy by Étienne St-Jean and Cynthia Mathieu

The Role and Types of Job Search Strategies as Career Growth Tool for Mid-Career Professionals by Serge P. da Motta Veiga

Volume 42, Issue 5, October 2015

The Glass Ceiling and Executive Careers: Still an Issue for Pre-Career Women by Souha R. Ezzedeen, Marie-Hélène Budworth, and Susan D. Baker

Construct Validity of Anticipated Work–Family Conflict and Barriers Measure by Elizabeth L. Campbell, Vicki L. Campbell, and C. Edward Watkins, Jr.

Hope in Adolescent Careers: Mediating Effects of Work Motivation on Career Outcomes in Swiss Apprentices by Domingo Valero, Andreas Hirschi, and Karoline Strauss

Moderating Effects of Immigrant Status on Determinants of Job Satisfaction: Implications for Occupational Health by Jungyai Ko, Jodi Jacobson Frey, Philip Osteen, and Haksoon Ahn

How Career Anchors Differentiate Managerial Career Trajectories: A Sequence Analysis Perspective by Martin Gubler, Torsten Biemann, Cécile Tschopp, and Gudela Grote

Career Goals in Young Adults: Personal Resources, Goal Appraisals, Attitudes, and Goal Management Strategies by Jessica M. Haratsis, Michelle Hood, and Peter A. Creed

Korean Secondary School Students’ Occupational Preferences Across School Types: Specificity Versus Broad Levels by Kyung-Nyun Kim

Volume 42, Issue 6, December 2015

Career Adaptability and Subjective Well-Being in Unemployed Emerging Adults: A Promising and Cautionary Tale by Varda Konstam, Selda Celen-Demirtas, Sara Tomek, and Kay Sweeney

The Construct Validity of Attitudes Toward Career Counseling Scale for Korean College Students by Suk Kyung Nam and Hyung In Park

Interactive Relationships Among Multiple Dimensions of Professional Commitment: Implications for Stress Outcomes in Lawyers by Adele J. Bergin and Nerina L. Jimmieson

Examining Longitudinal Relationships Between Dysfunctional Career Thoughts and Career Decision-

Vocational Psychology News
Making Self-Efficacy in School-to-Work Transition by Boyoung Kim, Bo Hyun Lee, Gyuyoung Ha, Hong Kwon Lee, and Sang Min Lee

The Gender-Differential Impact of Work Values on Prospects in Research Careers by Annett Hüttges and Doris Fay

Does Double Plateau Always Lead to Turnover Intention? Evidence From China With Indigenous Career Plateau Scale by Baoguo Xie, Xinxin Lu, and Wenxia Zhou

Volume 43, Issue 1, February 2016

The Connections Between Careers and Organizations in the New Career Era: Questions Answered, Questions Raised by James C. McElroy and Qingxiong Weng

The Role of Career Growth in Chinese New Employee’s Turnover Process by Jian-Qiao Chen, Zhi-Jin Hou, Xu Li, Kathi J. Lovelace, Yi-Ling Liu, and Zhi-Li Wang

Cross-Cultural Validation of the Career Growth Scale for Korean Employees by Boyoung Kim, Eunjeong Rhee, Gyuyoung Ha, Sun Hwa Jung, Daeyeon Cho, Hong Kwon Lee, and Sang Min Lee

The Relationships Between Employability, Emotional Exhaustion, and Turnover Intention: The Moderation of Perceived Career Opportunity by Chang-qin Lu, Jing-wei Sun, and Dan-yang Du Facilitating a Whole-Life Approach to Career Development: The Role of Organizational Leadership by Michael L. Litano and Debra A. Major

The Longitudinal Relationship Between Protean Career Orientation and Job Satisfaction, Organizational Commitment, and Intention-to-Quit by Abas Supeli and Peter A. Creed

Professional Trajectories, Individual Characteristics, and Staying Satisfied and Healthy by Claire S. Johnston, Christian Maggiori, and Jérôme Rossier

Career Development Quarterly

Volume 64, Issue 1, March 2016

SPECIAL ISSUE: CAREER INTERVENTION FOR LIFE DESIGN

Introduction to the Special Issue: Advancing Career Intervention for Life Design by Paul J. Hartung

A Life-Design-Based Online Career Intervention for Early Adolescents: Description and Initial Analysis by Laura Nota, Sara Santilli, and Salvatore Soresi

Career Construction Counseling with a Mid-career Black Male by J. G. (Kobus) Maree

Vocational Psychology News
Journal Spotlight

Life Design and Career Counseling Innovative Outcomes by Annamaria Di Fabio

Integrating Life-Design Counseling and Psychotherapy: Possibilities and Practices by Paulo Cardoso

Life Designing with Vulnerable Youth by Rubina Setlhare-Meltor and Lesley Wood

Lee Richmond: A Life Designed to Take the Counseling Profession to New Places by Suzanne Savickas and Tracy Lara

The Life-Design Group: A Case Study Assessment by Susan Barclay and Kevin Stoltz

Volume 64, Issue 2, June 2016

Using Work Values to Predict Post-Retirement Work Intentions by Anne M. Wöhrmann, Ulrike Fasbender, and Jürgen Deller

Predicting Career Adaptability from Positive Psychological Traits by Aysenur Buyukgoze-Kavas

Infusing Career Development to Strengthen English Language Arts Middle School Curricula by Richard T. Lapan, Amanda M. Marcotte, Robert Storey, Patricia Carbone, Sharon Loehr-Lapan, Donna Guerin, Teisha Thomas, Deidre Cuffee-Grey, Aria Coburn, Teresa Pfeiffer, Latoya Wilson, and Stephen Mahoney

Tolerance of Uncertainty: Links to Happenstance, Career Decision Self-Efficacy, and Career Satisfaction by Boyoung Kim, Eunjeong Rhee, Gyuyoung Ha, Joonyoung Yang, & Sang Min Lee

Predicting End-of-Career Transitions for Baby-Boomers Nearing Retirement Age by Ingrid Boveda and A.J. Metz

Occupational Engagement and Academic Major Satisfaction: Vocational Identity’s Mediating Role by Daniel W. Cox, Abby L. Bjornsen, Thomas S. Krieshok, and Yan Liu

The Effect of Brief Staff-Assisted Career Service Delivery on Drop-in Clients by Debra S. Osborn, Seth W. Hayden, Gary W. Peterson, and James P. Sampson, Jr.

Journal of Vocational Behavior

Volume 89, No Issue, August 2015

My Mentor, My Self: Antecedents and Outcomes of Perceived Similarity in Mentoring Relationships by Melissa E. Mitchell, Lillian T. Eby, and Belle Rose Ragins

Relating the Spherical representation of vocational interests to the HEXA-CO personality model by Djurre Holtrop, Marise Ph. Born, and Reinout E. de Vries

Vocational Psychology News
The career impact of winning an external work-related award by Bronwen Harrison and Denise M. Jepsen

Predictors for re-employment success in newly unemployed: A prospective cohort study by S. Brouwer, R.H. Bakker and J.M.H. Schellekens

Big-five personality and BIS/BAS traits as predictors of career exploration: The mediation role of career adaptability by Yuhui Li, Yanjun Guan, Fuxi Wang, Xiang Zhou, Kun Guo, Peng Jiang, Zichuan Mo, Yumeng Li, and Zheng Fang

Future time perspective and career decisions: The moderating effects of affect spin by Heajung Jung, In-Jo Park, and Juil Rie

Integrating different notions of employability in a dynamic chain: The relationship between job transitions, movement capital and perceived employability by Anneleen Forrier, Marijke Verbruggen, and Nele De Cuyper

Supportive supervisors improve employees' daily lives: The role supervisors play in the impact of daily workload on life satisfaction via work–family conflict by Zen Goh, Remus Ilies, and Kelly Schwind Wilson

Resource replacement and psychological well-being during unemployment: The role of family support by Ann H. Huffman, Satoris S. Culbertson, Heidi A. Wayment, and Louis H. Irving

Employees' satisfaction with retention factors: Exploring the role of career adaptability by Melinde Coetzee and Elleen Stoltz

Relationships of career adaptabilities with explicit and implicit self-concepts by Andrei Rusu, Cornelia Măirean, Ana-Maria Hojbotă, Loredana Ruxandra Gherasim, and Sabina Irina Gavriloaiei

Developing agency through good work: Longitudinal effects of job autonomy and skill utilization on locus of control by Chia-Huei Wu, Mark A. Griffin, and Sharon K. Parker

Work engagement during life-span: The role of interaction outside the organization and task significance by Bernadeta Goštautaitė and Ilona Bučiūnienė

Trick or trait? The combined effects of employee impression management modesty and trait modesty on supervisor evaluations by Corinna Diekmann, Gerhard Blickle, Katharina Hafner, and Lioba Peters

The relation of career adaptability to satisfaction and turnover intentions by Sow Hup Joanne Chan, and Xin Ma

Personal and social aspects of professional identity.: An extension of Marcia's identity status model applied to a sample of university students by Tiziana Mancini, Luca Caricati, Chiara Panari, and Annalisa Tonarelli
Journal Spotlight

The effectiveness of sources of support in career decision-making: A two-year follow-up by Dana Vertsberger and Itamar Gati

Work values and the transition to work life: A longitudinal study by Florencia M. Sortheix, Angela Chow, and Katariina Salmela-Aro

A culture-sensitive approach in the development of the Career Adapt-Abilities Scale in Iceland: Theoretical and operational considerations by Sif Einarsdóttir, Guðbjörg Vilhjálmsdóttir, Sigríður Briet Smár-adóttir, and Guðrún Birna Kjartansdóttir

Career indecision and career exploration among older French adolescents: The specific role of general trait anxiety and future school and career anxiety by Emmanuelle Vignoli

Volume 90, No Issue, October 2015

Gender differences in the family-relatedness of relocation decisions by Jan Ullrich, Helen Pluut, and Marion Büttgen Entrepreneurial competencies: Assessment and predictive value for entrepreneurship by Eva Kyndt and Herman Baert

Links between family gender socialization experiences in childhood and gendered occupational attainment in young adulthood by Katie M. Lawson, Ann C. Crouter, and Susan M. McHale

Felt obligations to reciprocate to an employer, preferences for mobility across employers, and gender: Three-way interaction effects on subsequent voice behavior by Thomas W.H. Ng, and Daniel C. Feldman

Career adaptability and academic satisfaction: Examining work volition and self efficacy as mediators by Ryan D. Duffy, Richard P. Douglass, and Kelsey L. Autin

Why are unemployed aged fifty and over less likely to find a job? A decomposition analysis by Sarah Vansteenkiste, Nick Deschacht, and Luc Sels

Development of early vocational behavior: Parallel associations between career engagement and satisfaction by Katja Upadyaya and Katariina Salmela-Aro

Knowledge junkies or careerbuilders? A mixed-methods approach to exploring the determinants of students' intention to earn a PhD by Elisabeth F. Mueller, Miriam Flickinger, and Verena Dorner

Does early-career underemployment impact future career success? A path dependency perspective by Marijke Verbruggen, Hetty van Emmerik, Anita Van Gils, Christoph Meng, and Andries de Grip
Entry and exit as embodied career choice in professional sport by Christine Coupland

Exploring links between career adaptability, work volition, and well-being among Turkish students by Aysenur Buyukgozce-Kavas, Ryan D. Duffy, and Richard P. Douglass

Measuring work styles: Towards an understanding of the dynamic components of the theory of work adjustment by Piers H. Bayl-Smith and Barbara Griffin

Cognitive–motivational antecedents of career decision-making processes in Portuguese high school students: A longitudinal study by Pedro M. Cordeiro, Maria P. Paixão, Willy Lens, Marlies Lacante, and Koen Luyckx

Career adaptability and perceived overqualification: Testing a dual-path model among Chinese human resource management professionals by Weiguo Yang, Yanjun Guan, Xin Lai, Zhuolin She, and Andrew John Lockwood

Optimal matching analysis in career research: A review and some best-practice recommendations by Katja Dlouhy and Torsten Biemann

Vol. 91, No Issue, December 2015

A comparison of individuals with unanswered callings to those with no calling at all by Michele W. Gazica, Paul E. Spector

Success in the first phase of the vocational career: The role of cognitive and scholastic abilities, personality factors, and vocational interests by Anna Volodina, Gabriel Nagy, and Olaf Köller

Who benefits from independent careers? Employees, organizations, or both? By Ricardo Rodrigues, David Guest, Teresa Oliveira, and Kerstin Alfes

Young at heart, old at work? Relations between age, (meta-)stereotypes, self-categorization, and retirement attitudes by P. Matthijs Bal, Annet H. de Lange, Beatrice I.J.M. Van der Heijden, Hannes Zacher, Frank A. Oderkerk, and Sabine Otten

Career Adapt-Abilities Scale-Italian Form: Psychometric proprieties with Italian preadolescents by Ilaria Di Maggio, Maria Cristina Ginevra, Nota Laura, Lea Ferrari, and Salvatore Soresi

Configurations of unemployment, reemployment, and psychological well-being: A longitudinal study of unemployed individuals in Portugal by Joaquim A. Ferreira, Matthias Reitzle, Bora Lee, Raquel A. Freitas, Eduardo R. Santos, Luis Alcoforado, and Fred W. Vondracek

Gender differences in STEM undergraduates' vocational interests: People–thing orientation and goal affordances by Yang Yang and Joan M. Barth

Daily manifestations of career adaptability: Relationships with job and career outcomes by Hannes
Journal Spotlight

Zacher
Job crafting and extra-role behavior: The role of work engagement and flourishing by Evangelia Demerouti, Arnold B. Bakker, and Josette M.P. Gevers

Being engaged when resources are low: A multi-source study of selective optimization with compensation at work by Laura Venz and Sabine Sonnentag

The relation of career adaptability to work experience, extracurricular activities, and work transition in Portuguese graduate students by Sílvia Monteiro and Leandro S. Almeida

Exploring the path through which career adaptability increases job satisfaction and lowers job stress: The role of affect by Marina Fiori, Grégoire Bollmann, and Jérôme Rossier

Persistent career indecision over time: Links with personality, barriers, self-efficacy, and life satisfaction by Vanessa Katharina Jaensch, Andreas Hirschi, and Philipp Alexander Freund

When career paths cease to exist: A qualitative study of career behavior in a crisis economy by Maria Simosi, Denise M. Rousseau and Maria Daskalaki

Relation of career adaptability to meaning in life and connectedness among adolescents in Hong Kong by Mantak Yuen and Josephine Yau

Vocational and overall identity: A person-centered approach in Italian university students by Laura Ale-ni Sestito, Luigia Simona Sica, Giancarlo Ragozini, Erik Porfeli, Gina Weisblat, and Tiziana Di Palma

Strategies for coping with career indecision: Concurrent and predictive validity by Yuliya Lipshits-Brazilier, Itamar Gati, and Moshe Tatar

Managing personal networks: An examination of how high self-monitors achieve better job performance by Song Wang, Qiongjing Hu, and Bowen Dong

Three faces of context and their implications for career: A study of public sector careers cut short by Laurie Cohen and Joanne Duberley

Corrigendum to “Cognitive-motivational antecedents of career decision-making processes in Portuguese high school students: A longitudinal study” by Pedro M. Cordeiro, Maria P. Paixão, Willy Lens, Marlies Lacante, and Koen Luyckx

Volume 92, No Issue, February 2016

Construction and initial validation of the Work Context Inventory by Anne Pignault, and Claude Housseman

Perceived career barriers and vocational outcomes among university undergraduates: Exploring mediation and moderation effects by Ieva Urbanaviciute, Birute Pociute, Antanas Kairys, and Audrone Liniauskaite

Regulatory job stressors and their within-person relationships with ego depletion: The roles of state anxiety,
Journal Spotlight

self-control effort, and job autonomy by Roman Prem, Bettina Kubicek, Stefan Diestel, and Christian Korunka

Cognitive adjustment as an indicator of psychological health at work: Development and validation of a measure by Marie Malo, Isabelle Tremblay, and Luc Brunet

Job crafting and its relationships with person–job fit and meaningfulness: A three-wave study by Maria Tims, Daantje Derks, and Arnold B. Bakker

Dirty work, dirty worker? Stigmatisation and coping strategies among domestic workers by Kim Bosmans, Sarah Mousaid, Nele De Cuyper, Stefan Hardonk, Fred Louckx, and Christophe Vanroelen

Unemployed and exhausted? Job-search fatigue and reemployment quality by Vivien K.G. Lim, Don Chen, Sherry S.Y. Aw, and MingZe Tan

Comparison of women engineers who persist in or depart from engineering by Nadya A. Fouad, Romila Singh, Kevin Cappaert, Wen-hsin Chang, and Min Wan

The impact of education on intergenerational occupational mobility in Spain by Antonio Caparrós Ruiz

Within-person relationships between daily individual and job characteristics and daily manifestations of career adaptability by Hannes Zacher

Predicting Chinese human resource managers’ strategic competence: Roles of identity, career variety, organizational support and career adaptability by Yanjun Guan, Weiguo Yang, Xiang Zhou, Zheyu Tian, and Anita Eves

Between- and within-person level motivational precursors associated with career exploration by Bora Lee, Erik J. Porfeli, and Andreas Hirschi

Ingratiation as an adapting strategy: Its relationship with career adaptability, career sponsorship, and promotability by Hataya Sibunruang, Patrick Raymund James M. Garcia, and Laramie R. Tolentino

Leading future orientations for current effectiveness: The role of engagement and supervisor coaching in linking future work self salience to job performance by Weipeng Lin, Lei Wang, Peter A. Bamberger, Qi Zhang, Haifeng Wang, Wencai Guo, Jing Shi, and Tao Zhang

Personality change via work: A job demand–control model of Big-five personality changes by Chia-Huei Wu

The influence of satisfaction and promotability on the relation between career adaptability and turnover intentions by Sow H.J. Chan, Xin Mai, Oi M.K. Kuok, and Siew H. Kong
Journal Spotlight

Australian Journal of Career Development

Volume 24, Issue 3, October 2015

Peter McIlveen. A research agenda for the vocational psychology of agriculture. doi:10.1177/1038416215586005

N. İzzet Kurbanoğlu and Serhat Arslan. High school students’ educational and career interest (science-technology-mathematics) and career adaptabilities. doi:10.1177/1038416215594633

Vocational Psychology News
See you at the 2016 Society for Vocational Psychology (SVP) Conference
Integrating Theory, Research, and Practice in Tallahassee, FL on May 16-17, 2016

And remember:
Save the Date for:
NCDA Conference in Chicago in June
APA Convention in Denver in August

For correspondence regarding the newsletter or SVP membership:
Society for Vocational Psychology
A Section of the Society of Counseling Psychology (17)
of the American Psychological Association
c/o Neeta Kantamneni
Communications Officer
University of Nebraska-Lincoln
42 TEAC
Lincoln, NE 68508

Vocational Psychology News is published biannually by the Society for Vocational Psychology: A Section of Division 17, The Society of Counseling Psychology of the American Psychological Association. The views expressed in this publication do not necessarily represent the policies of the APA, or SCP.

Section Officers
Chair
Saba Rasheed Ali, Ph.D.
University of Iowa

Chair-Elect
Patrick Rottinghaus, Ph.D.
Southern Illinois University

Past Chair
Sue Whiston, Ph.D.
Indiana University

Treasurer
Marie Hammond, Ph.D.
Tennessee State University

Communications Officer
Neeta Kantamneni, Ph.D.
University of Nebraska-Lincoln

Student Representatives
Ellie Castine, M.S.
Boston University

Brittan L. Davis, M.Ed.
Cleveland State University

WebMaster
Tony Tinsley, Ph.D.
Western Washington University

www.div17.org/vocpsych